There can be no doubt that the Union of Vancouver Island with British Columbia would have been attended with happy results, and that the United Colony would have prospered, had the Governor observed three important elements of success, viz.; First. The necessity of establishing the capital at Victoria-the place most in accordance with the wishes of a majority of the people; the place largest in importance, the most accescible for sea-going vessels, the rendezvous of the fleet, and, in every other respect, the most suitable for the capital of the United Colony. This step would have tended materially to restore confidence-would have caused capital now lying idle in the hands of bankers and agents to be reinvested in the Colony; and would have contributed to build up a city worthy of the name of the capital of British Columbia. The second element of success lay in the reduction, for the next year or two, of the expenditure of the Colony to the lowest possible point-to a point compatible with the means of the Colony-and not in an attempt to adjust the revenue to an excessive expenditure, but the expenditure to a moderate revenue. It is simply preposterous that $701,000 should be asked from a population of 6000 or 7000, merely to govern them and manage their affairs. Our American friends will smile with amazement and incredulity as they glance over the Estimates for 1867, and well they may. It is impossible, without further injury to the Colony, to raise so large a sum from so limited a community, and we had hoped that ere this the Government would have seen the folly of pressing the demand, and, by compelling their employes-from the highest to the lowest-to accept for the time being considerably smaller salaries, would have been enabled to reduce the estimated expenditure to an amount more in conformity with the resources of the country. The third element of success (and not the least element of success (and not the least important) is a careful and judicious revision of the Tariff, so that a revenue may be derived and the foreign trade that she did so at the stroy her father; that she did so at the instigation of the prisoner Sampson, and the foreign trade that the quantity of strychnine inused. of the Colony preserved. Victoria has hitherto been a sort of depot for British and other goods, the merchants having been able, through the Free Port, to hold larger stocks than they otherwise would have done, and our city has become a market to which resort our American neighbors, our Russian friends from Sitka, and other strangers, in consequence of the cheapness of our wares in comparison with other cities on this coast. There is no reason why this trade-which before Union was growing year by year-should be diminished because the Colonies having been united; but such will be the case if the present Tariff be not speedily and carefully revised and readjusted to suit the alters attention to what seems to be a defeced condition of affairs. We have not tive statute that allows a principal, space to point out details; but we may after having been acquitted of a crime, say that the basis upon which we conto ascend the witness-stand, and, by sider the new Tariff should be framed an acknowledgment of his or her is, firstly-the protection or all articles that can be raised in the Colony-such as wheat, flour, oats, bran, hay, fruit, vegetables, eggs, butter, fowls, cattle (except for breeding), pigs, pork, bacon, beet, &c.; atso, tumber and coal. Secondly—The admission, at a low rate of duty, of those articles that we do not manufacture, and in which a growing tenda with our neighbors is apparent—such tenda with our neighbors in the such tenda with pigs, pork, bacon, beef, &c.; also, lumber as dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, hardware and cutlery, earthenware, rope and eordage, and all ship chandlery stores. Thirdly-That the revenue should be principally derived from articles of luxury, such as spirits, tobacco, cigars, wines, beer, &c., and from those articles in general use that are consumed in the Colony, but are not exported. As the manufacture of machinery should be encouraged, we would recommend a duty on imported machinery, and would Ordinance or any of them, and all remedies valuable as a dye. admit iron and all other metals, boiler rivets, and every article of a like nature used by machinists and shipbuilders free of duty. Bulky articles of little value and not easily dealt with in bond, such as fire-bricks, smith's coal, salt, &c., should also come in free, for these articles are often re-exported, and will not bear the charges consequent upon placing them in bond. Blankets should not be taxed too highly, or the Indians, who are the chief purchasers, will refrain from buying altogether rather than pay a much higher price than hitherto. Hon, Dr Helmeken has asked in the Council for a Committee to revise the Tariff, and we have offered the foregoing remarks in the hope that they will assist the Committee in preparing a Tariff that will bear equally upon the colonists

generally, and yet produce as large a revenue as can be expected from our limited imports.

We feel convinced that, had the Government

sonant with their own wishes, and in a way more likely to advance the general prosperity An Extraordinary Case. The acquittal of the girl McFadden as the principal, and the conviction of the woman Sampson as accessory to the poisoning of the father of the former, is one of the most remarkable cases on record. The girl was arrested and taken before Mr Franklyn, charged, partly upon her own confession and partly upon circumstantial evidence, with having attempted the be lawful for the said Judge to renew such evidence, with having attempted the life of her father by the administration of poison dropped into a cup of coffee. It has confession the circle with the cir In her confession the girl implicated a Mrs Sampson as the instigator of the crime, and the latter was accordingly arrested and indicted as accessory. At the trial, on Thursday, it was shown by the evidence of the man McFadden, that before drinking the coffee he ate heartily of the "heart and liver of a deer, and a piece of rabbit pie;" that on the top of this he drank a "basin of wine," and that in addition to the meat he had "potatoes tenable during the pleasure of the Governor. and badly baked bread." Vomiting very naturally followed this overloading of the stomach, but the sickness for crunder a High Sheriff, and also for every naturally followed this overloading of the stomach, but the sickness was over in a short time. Some two months afterwards, by means of "threats and frowns," McFadden forced a confession from his daughter that, at the instance of Sampson, she withstanding the lapse of the period of one had administered strychnine in the year from the date of his appointment. coffee that occasioned his illness. The girl was then handed over to the officers of justice. THE AMATEUR PERFORMANCE - We have never seen a larger house at the theatre than that which is attended the performance by the Amateur Dramatic Club last evening. The number of ladies present was very large, and the utmost satisfaction was given. The entertainment was under the patronage of Sir James Douglas, Capt Oldfield and the officers of the Fleet; Capt. Pearse and the officers and members of the Rifle Corps; and the Victoria Fire Department. Naval Officers, the Rifle Volunteers uniform, and a large number of firemen in fatigne dress, graced the theatre by their presence. A circumstance that increased popular interest in the success of the entertainment was the fact that it was for the benefit of the funds of the club, the members of which have always rendered their services freely in aid of every good and worthy object. The response that the club met with testified how highly their past services are appreciated, and how desirous the public are of showing that appreciation in a more substantial manner that mere words can convey. The entertainment opened with "The Irish Lion," in which Mr B. P. Griffia assumed the role of Puffy with infinite credit to himself and amusement to the audience; Mr. Godfrey Brown played Ginger as only that amateur can play it; and great praise is due our respected- ex-Mayor Franklin, who appeared as Tom More, the Irish Lion, and convulsed the house with his laughable eccentricities. Mr Clarke's Capt Dixen was well done, Mr C. having more of the self-possession of a professional than any other member of the Club. Messrs R. G. Marsh, Barnett, Keast, Jenny Arnot, Miss Pixley and Mrs Marsh occasion, who made lots of fun and brought down the house. The feature of the evening was Talfourd's burlesque of "Shylock, or the Merchant of Venice Preserved." The cess was materially aided by the beautiful scenery painted by Marsh; one of the scenes-the east side of Government streetcreating much applause. We regret that our power to give, as we had intended, an extended notice of this really capital performauce, and we have barely time to say that Poisoning Case.—We ought to have added to our report of this case, that Mr Ring fully redeemed his promise to the judge that he would prove to him bye and bye why his [Mr Ring's] minute questions to McFadden, about what he had for breakfast, ought not to be controlled; because Dr Davie subsequently showed that strychnine never causes vomiting, but a contrary effect, and that McFadden's vomiting was caused and was commenced in 1860. The revoluby an overloaded stomach; the cross examination put an end to the case.

The Good News from Cariboo Con-The following extracts we have been permitted to make from a private letter received in town by a friend:

QUESNELMOUTH, Feb. 7, 1867. The mill at Soda Creek is going on rapidly, I hear, and will be at work in 6 or 7 weeks. Several boys down from Hixon's Creek to-day. Bill Hill, L. B. White, Narcissus Murray, Joe Mason, &c., all going back in 2 or 3 days with necessaries, They say Wright is working like a giant. They are all full of hope, and speak of the Canyon Creek district as the future El Dorado of the Pacific. The Stewart have struck a welldefined ledge-gold visible throughout, and inst. ; reported richer even than the Stewart.

We want only time and a little capital and | your friends. you will see this district the wonder of the

On William Creek things never looked so well. H. can sell his interest in the United Company in Conklin's Gulch for $10,000. They have struck the old Ericsson lead, and t is immensely rich.

A THOROUGH-PACED RUFFIAN-On Thurs. day evening officer Absom was accosted by a klootchman named "Mary," who requested nim to take in charge a fellow named James Kelly, who had stolen a gold chain from and assaulted her at a squaw dance house. The officer seized the man, who at once showed fight, and although a number of men gathered around not one advanced to assist the captor when called on to do so in the Queen's name. After a severe struggle the officer was finally assisted by Mr McEwen, a Cariboo miner. and the two succeeded in getting Kelly to the barracks, where he was recognized as one of the gang of three garroters who were given ten days in which to leave the country or undergo three months' imprisonment. Yesterday morning Mr Pemberton had the ruffian brought before him, and first heard the charge of theft preferred by "Mary," who is rather a comely-looking clootehman. Mr Ring appeared to defend. The witness, upon entering the box, turned her back to the counsel.

Mr Ring (pathetically)-Oh! Mary don't turn your back on ME! (laughter.) The Officer-Okoke man hyps tikke nanitch maka sartsis (roars of laughter).

Mary (turning)-Ikta? Mr Ring-That's a klosch girl! Now ook at me:

The Magistrate-She may be a princess r aught you know (a laugh). Mr Ring-Yes; in disguise (renewed laughter). Mary (indignantly)-Ikta he-he? piltons (roars of merriment.)

[fools.] After this little prelude, Mr Ring proceeded to examine the witness, who swore positively to the theft and the assault. Nick Adams, proprietor of the ' RedLion,' deposed that he was with the prisoner when he visited the squaw's house; nothing wrong went on while they were there; there were several people around the house; knew the prisoner as a workman at the Port Discovery

There appearing to be a doubt as to the the guilt of the prisoner he was remanded for three days to await the production of further testimony.

Kelly was then straigned upon the charge assaulting Officer Absom, pleaded guilty, and was fined £5 or two months' imprisonment; he next pleaded guilty to tearing the officer's clothes, and the same penalty was inflicted. A charge of threatening the officer's life was dismissed. The three months' imprisonment for garroting was ordered to be inflicted, and he was committed to prison to await the result of the charge of larceny preferred by "Mary." Should he be convicted upon that charge, society will be relieved of his detestable presence for at leas ne year.

RIFLE VOLUNTEERS. - We regret to state hat after repeated endeavours to keep alive the vitality of No. 2 Company of Rifle Volunteers, it has been found necessary to dis band it. We are assured that officers and men alike regret the necessity of so doing. But the number had of late so shrunk, that and Farwell performed their respectives roles little but a skeleton remained of what was in a highly satisfactory manner, while Miss | year ago a numerous company. We are glad to observe that the Band is in good force, and likely to be a great success; and we have little doubt that this act of No. 2 Company, far from depressing the spirit of the corps, will tend rather to concentrate and stimulate its organization and efficiency. that the Marshes, father and son, acquitted

ARRIVAL OF THE ACTIVE .- The steamship that Miss Jenny Arnot, Miss Annie Pixley, Active, Capt. Williams, arrived last night at 10:30 o'clock, having left San Francisco on the morning of the 18th. The ship's memoranda will be found in another column. Among the passengers we noticed Hon A. Francis, E Grancini, R. Brodrick, J. H Brown, Capt J H Smith, U S.A.

H. M. S. REINDEER .- By the Army and Navy Gazette we notice that this ship (now on her way out from England to this station) was one of the old wooden class of ressel tion in shipbuilding stopped her progress, for nearly five years she remained unfinished; then the Admiralty ordered her to be completed. Originally designed as a 17 gur

GIVEN A CHANCE .-- Thomas J. Leith, the man who robbed his host of $1.75, was brought up for sentence before Mr Pemberton yesterday, and ordered to appear in one week's time for sentence-a polite way of telling a man that his room is better than his company in the Colony. If Leith has a grain of common sense, he will make himself scarce before the expiration of the week.

AN HONEST CONFESSION GOOD FOR THE Soul."-The Nanaimo Gazette, in its last number, speaking of the advantages of New Westminster has to offer as the capital says: "As far as intercommunication and general convenience is [sic| concerned Victoria comes first. We have actually less direct intercourse with New Westminster than the Washburne struck the ledge on the 3rd we have with Fort Rupert." > THE FIDELITER.-The steamer arrived yesterday morning from Portland after a tempestuous passage. She lay fours days in Baker Bay-unable to cross-owing to the rough state of the bar. She brought a few passengers and a quantity of Oregon produce. Her day of sailing again for Portland is not yet determined upon.

THEATRE ENTERTAINMENT .-- To-night the Marsh Troupe will appear at the Victoria Theatre in new and eccentric amusements. Tom Lafont and several others, as well as an efficient musical band will assist. The price of admittance is only 25 and 50 cents. Go and see them.

THE CONCERT .- The last of the series for the benefit of the Female Infirmary will take place on Thursday. The performance will consist of vocal music by amateurs; and the programme, which is most attractive, will be published to-day.

SALE OF AN UP-RIVER STEAMBOAT-MI McCrea advertises the up-river steamboa Enterprise, now plying between Quesnellemouth and Soda Creek, with all the appurtenances, for sale by auction on the 28th March.

THE COPPERMAN ROBBERY .- Jim, the Indian porter, who stands charged with stealing poor Mrs Copperman's money, was vesterday again remanded for three days. There is said to be some hope of the money being found.

IMMIGRANTS COMING-We learn that a large number of passengers are offering at San Francisco for this place, and that the Company intend placing an additional steame on the route to accommodate the increased travel.

WHITE LABORERS at San Francisco at tacked a party of Chinese laborers, on the 11th instant, and after brutally maltreating them, burned their houses. The riot was finally quell d.

is Constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, inspure air, filth, and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditery in the constitution, descending "from parents to children anto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sorres. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases: consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kid-Sacramento Daily Union

So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so manerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
